RE: CBOE Power Shutdown

On Friday, March 29, 2013,[1] the Facilities Department will be conducting maintenance on the electrical infrastructure network within the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated (CBOE) building. In order to complete this work, a shutdown of power is required for the entire building, including the Data Centers and Trading Floor. The power shutdown window will be between the hours of 8:00 a.m. (Chicago time) beginning on Friday, March 29, 2013 through 8:00 a.m. (Chicago time) Saturday, March 30, 2013. The power shutdown will affect convenience power (plug power), lighting, computers, elevators and potable water.

Please note the power shutdown will not affect the equipment located at NY4.

Affected Quarterly Index Series (QIXs), Quarterly Option Series (QOS) and Short Term Options Series (Weekly Options) processing will be completed Thursday (March 28, 2013) evening according to the evening expiration schedule. (See CBOE Information Circular IC13-021 for information on these products). Firms will be able to send transmissions Thursday evening.

As a result:

- Trading Permit Holder (TPH) Representatives should turn off their respective CBOE Trading Floor and second floor systems on Thursday, March 28, 2013, before leaving for the weekend.
- During the power shutdown window no one will be allowed access into the building.

TPHs and their representatives should arrange to come in and power up their respective systems on Sunday, March 31, 2013 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. (Chicago time) and 12:00 p.m. (Chicago time). Access to the building will be permitted through the main entry (North Side). Those looking to gain entry will be required to have a building ID. CBOE access badges will work on Sunday after the power shutdown even if the badge normally has only Monday through Friday access.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.
