RE: CBOE / CFE / OneChicago Move to Equinix NY4

As announced in CBOE Information Circulars IC12-078 and IC12-101, the primary data centers for CBOE, CBOE Futures Exchange (CFE), and OneChicago (Exchanges) will be moving to the Equinix NY4 Data Center (NY4 Data Center) in Secaucus, New Jersey. The completion of the cutover is on schedule for Monday, December 3, 2012.

Firms can test on Saturday December 1st from 12:00 until 5:00 p.m. CT and on Sunday, December 2nd the system will be available for connectivity testing only from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. CT.

A "hot cutover" will occur such that CBOE, CFE, and OneChicago will operate from the current Chicago data center through the end of business on Friday, November 30, 2012, and commence business operations on Monday, December 3, 2012, from the NY4 Data Center. Please note that resting GTC orders will be cancelled by the Exchanges on Friday, November 30, after the close of business. Firms should keep all lines up to receive cancels on that Friday. All unmatched trades must be resolved Friday. The CBOE System Status page will be updated when the order cancelling is complete. Firms will be responsible for re-entering orders on Monday morning. Monday, December 3, at 6:15 a.m. CT, CBOE, CFE and OneChicago will have systems available to accept orders.

Up to date information concerning the cutover will be available on CBOE's website via the System Status Page. The System Status Page can be reached from CBOE's Home Page or from this link: http://www.cboe.com/aboutcboe/systemstatus/default.aspx. Firms should check the System Status page over the weekend to view the progress of the NY4 cutover. Important information concerning the cutover will be posted on this web page. Phones in the data-center will be manned the entire weekend. You can reach the datacenter at (312) 786-7642. The Help Desk will start taking calls at 5:30 a.m. CT on Monday, December 3, 2012.

Firm connectivity and API Login Testing continues. Refer to Information Circular IC12-068 for more information as well as the schedule for weekday and weekend mock trading.

Additional Information:
