RE: Option Class Delisting

As a result of the Exchange's delisting policy, the following option class will be delisted following the close of business, TODAY, Thursday, September 14, 2017. All multiply listed option classes will be delisted as soon as possible. If a below class is a singly listed option class, new months will not be added to that class and all series in that class without open interest will be delisted.
